6.8 Glass Doors for Approving Glass Guards - No Top Rail or Other Questionable Design

Glass guards as per 9.8.8. that do not have a top rail or the guard design is unacceptable for other reasons should have an equivalent design from a professional engineer. The professional engineers design should include all of the components of the guard.

Although 9.8.8 does not require that guards be constructed as per part 4, part 2.5.1.3 (equivalents) does allow for designs that are not specifically described in the code, based on past performance, tests or evaluations.
